The men landed at Nicolaievak intending to stitution for the instruction of young women in medical science and the training of midwives. A memorandum has recently been published by Lady Durrentn in support of the meeting of the Legislative Council to-National Association for Supplying Female morrow, at 4 p.m.:-Medical Aid to the Women of India, in which the need of such aid is clearly eatablished. The need in China is scarcely Elias Isase Elias Zacharish. less than in India; if there is a degree of difference, it is only a small one. Referring to the training of midwives Lady DUFFERIN says :- "There is no doubt whatever that the lives of thousands of women and infants are yearly sacrificed, and that a still larger number of women are condemned to barrenness and to a life of ill-health and suffering by the violence and by the aggressive character of the treatment they are subjected to. when, in nine cases out of ten, gentleness, had been earned, but in consequence of some patience, fresh air, cleanliness, and quiet smuggled Nanksens being found on board the would be sufficient to bring them safely steamer at Wuhu, the steamer was fined by through a common experience of womangiven which show that in many cases it is as were on board, as soon as he knew. The officials inguilty, are in a position to buy off the enquirers, unless the latter are men of the strictest integrity; the task itself is one of great difficulty and of vast extent. We know how little enquiries of this kind at home ever succeed in bringing to light, and how difficult it is to pin down the culprits; and it must be still harder with a job of such magnitude as that on which Li Hung-tsao and his subordinates have been engaged; and it will not be extraordinary, nor will it necessarily involve bad faith on the part of the investigators, if the enquiry proves fruitless.

The Chinese principle of ennobling man after his death for his own merita and sometimes for these of his offspring, sounds curious at first in Western ears, but there is a great deal of sound sense in it. Our system of giving a man bereditary rank during his life time is based upon the theory that his descendants will necessarily be worthy of him, which is by no means always the case: the Chinese theory is that if a man has shown himself eminent in any way, the eminence must be due to his ancestors, which is much more reasonable. In an instance like this, of the grant of posthumons honours to a man for his own merits, the Chinese carry into practice the axiom. "Call no man happy until he b dead." Not until the man is in his grave do they believe that a dispassionate verdict can be passed on his life; and even then they are no led away by the maxim. De mortuis nil nici bonum: they allow his demerits to be represented as well as his services and, as in this case, the Emperor does not mind confessing that he has made a mistake. THE LATE EMPEROR PREDERICE'S DIARY. HAMBURG, 30th September. Professor Geffeken returned here from Helicoland last evening and was immediately arrested. He will be examined before a magistrate morrow. He is charged with furnishing the extracts from Emperer Frederick's diary which were recently published by the Deutsche Rundschau. He says he returned expressly to meet the charge.

BERLIN, 30th September. The National Gazette states that the recently published extracts from Frederick's diary have been compared with the text of the original and have been found to agree to the letter. It is understood that Professor Goffeken is ndicted for revealing state secrets.

BERLIN, 2nd October. The trial of Professor Geffeken at Hamburg was closed to-day. The case was remitted to th Supreme Court at Leipsic. It is stated that, in searching Professor Geffe ken's house at Hamburg, letters from Mr rominent Frenchmen were found.

Gladstone. Dr. Morell Mackenzie, and several

Berlin, 6th October. Bismarck is pushing the case against Professor Geffeken with his utmost power, and in his usual relentless way. Geffoken's wife is nearly frantic. She tried to see Bismarck and plead for mercy, and also sent him a long dispatch to Friedrichsrab, but the iron Chancellor would not be moved. Statesmen who have known him for years never saw him so angry as he is now. It is of the right of the Government to expel the ofened to resign when the Emperor was reluctant to give his consent to the publication of his letter. The Emperor would never have done so if he had not felt convinced that the diary as published was a forgary. The official papers are denonneing Geffeken as a traiter and an inveterate bater of German unity. If things get very serious his friends will try to prove him insane. The case will be tried before the Supreme Court of Germany, and promises a sensation. It may turn out a two-edged sword for Bismarck, as the

MILAN AND NATALIE. Berlin. 80th September. The North German Gazette, in an article denying that Queen Natalie was expelled from Wiesbaden after a promise of the Emperor to protect her, publishes the text of the Emperor's letter to Natalie. On June 2nd he wrote:- " I am hastening to have necessary inquiries made in order to be able to give instructions regarding the measure with which your Majesty be Belgians, 265,000 Italians, 100,000 Germans lieves yourself to be threatened. Meanwhile 0.000 each of Spaniards and Swiss, and 36,000 shall enjoy entire protection compatible with international laws toward your husband and the Servian Government." On July 5th the Emperor wrote to Natalie as follows:--" As a result of my inquiries L cannot support the opposition which your Majesty considers yourself bound to display to the demands of King Milan for the return of the Crown Prince. The King simply avails himself of his rights as a sovereign and father, which international law does not permit me to oppose. therefore recommend you to place the Crown Prince at the King's disposal

CHINA AND THE CHINESE ARMY

Lieutenant-Younghusband, K.D.G., who last year travelled overland from Peking to Cashmere, delivered a lecture at the United Service On London. Institution at Simla on the 5th October. on China and the Chinese army. General Chapman was in the chair. Lieutenant Younghusband dealt more particularly with Manchuria and Chinese Turkistan. The former he described as a rich and very beautiful land and a very valuable province of the thinese Empire. Both on this account and as the home of the present dynasty it was receiving much attention from the Chinese Government. Its military resources were especially looked after. At Kirin there was a large arsenal with extensive and valuable machinery, all managed entirely by Chinamen. Turkistan was a very different land. It was nearly all desert, with small cases, where towns were situated. Rain hardly ever fell. Water was obtained principally from streams which flowed from the Tienshan and other mount.ins. China's hold on this distant province was stronger than was sometimes supposed. The indigenous population have a most profound respect for the Chinese. Throughout the wide parts of Central Asia the people had a much deeper respect for China than for either England or Russia, and considered China as far the greatest Power. As regards the Chinese army, beyond the special force organized in the European fashion for the defence of Peking, it hardly existed except on paper. Both it the war against Yakub Beg and in the Tonquin war troops had to be specially raised for the occasion, and this was done with the greatest difficulty. Although the Chinese look with some contempt on military art. they have produced some good Generals, of whom Tao Tung Tsang, the subjugator of Kashgar, was a notable example. The tenacity and endurance displayed in the Kashgar campaign were something extraordinary. Recent events have stirred up the Chinese Government, and they have now acquired a large quantity of European war material. General Chapman paid a warm compliment to Lieutenant Younghusband for his euterprising journey. He considered it a gratifying sign of the times that the spirit of adventure was nowadays prompting many Englishmen to undertake hazardous journeys for the sake of military and commercial exploration. Information had been lately received, he said, that the Rev. H. Lansdell, who had travelled much in Asiatic Russia, and would shortly arrive at Leh.

LEPROSY IN INDIA. The Government of India did a very wise and humane act in requesting all the Local Governments to send in reports as to the extent of leprosy in India and the management of leper asylums and what steps were taken for the segregation of the sexes. The answers of the Local Governments are not pleasant reading. They "show that the number of lepers who come under organised relief in institutions maintained by charity or assisted by Government amount only to about one percent, of the number of lepers actually known to exist in the country, and in these institutions orders for the secregation of the sexes are not always enforced." In India, according to the census of 1881, there are 131.618, and these figures, in the opinion Perak Tin Mining and Smelting Company CACCONE'S SHERRY, PORT, CLAof the Governor-General in Council do not afford a true measure of the disease. Thus there are Punjom and Sunghie. Dua Samentan Mining about 120,000 lepers wandering about the laid propagating and spreading the disease. The Perak Sugar Cultivation Company-Tls. 18 per Resolution of the Government of India states: -" dical science, though it can alleviate the sufferings of individuals, has as yet discovered no cure for leptosy; and the Governor-General in Connoil is assured that no measure could effectually stamp out the disease which stopped short of the absolute segregation of the sease and the confinement for life of all affected by it. Such a measure would not only be repugnant to public opinion at the present time, but would Chinese Imperial Lean of 1884 B-3 per cent in India be perfectly impracticable." The abolition of suttes was contrary to the opinion of the time. Public opinion must be in a very diseased state if it supports the right of a man to propagate a leathsome contagious malady. It might not be possible to confine all the lepers in India, but compulsory, sogregation should, at least, be enforced when the malady arrives at the stage from which contagion may occur. This is according to the best authorities, when depresy becomes open sores, or, as Dr. Carter states, the direct or indirect conveyance of the disease outside the body from person to person by leprous matter from leprous sores. Thousands of lepers are now wandering about the land with open sores-To check this evil, the Government of India states, is perfectly impracticable. It is hard to understand what they mean by impracticable. [ --Surely Local Governments could establish saylums as the small and poor State of Norway has done, and by means of them decreased the disease 45 per cent. in thirty years. No doubt this would cost money, but a civilised Government should manage its finances with sufficient skill to leave some money to be spent on an institution for the checking of the most loathsome disease that ever broke the heart of man to see. The Government of India close their Resolution with the following words:-" After carefully considering the subject, his Excellency in Conneil has arrived at the conclusion that, for the present at all events, it is impossible for Government to attempt to do more than encourage the grant of medical and charitable relief of lepers in voluntary hospitals and leper asylums. In affording medical relief in such institutions, the necessity of strictly enforcing the segregation of the seres should be invariably kept in view; and his Excellency in Connoil desires that this condition should be imposed in the case of every institution for the relief of lepers which receives aid from public fands, and that every effort should be made to induce the supporters of institutions of the kind maintained by voluntary contributions to adopt a rule of similar strictness." The conclusion is somewhat lame and impotent. Lepers in volun

The Byoulla and Poona hurrumskallas allow lopers a shelter, and under such circumstances it can scarcely be questioned that the collection of lepers is of little benefit to the class, while it is certain that such congregation is a danger to other persons in the establishment. As we wrote some months ago in discussing the subject, "Simple shelter and doles of grain, or annas wherewith to purchase grain, however charitable, are of no value as regards the great desiderata, viz., the cure, if possible, and the prevention of leprosy." The Government of India is correct in saying that no cure has yet been discovered for leprosy, but still at the same time it is known to be a disease which may be checked at least temporary by medical treatment aided by liberal diet. No benefit, however, can be derived from the medical treatment without a liberal dist, and a liberal diet is not given to them in such institutions as the Byculla and Poons Dhurrumshallas. Leprosy is at present increasing in European countries, and there is no resson why Europeans in the East should be any longer exempt as they hitherto practically have been exempt. For with population the liability of the European to contract it is also aggmented. It is the bounden duty of the Government of India to check the increase of the disease. The least

Government can do is to insist on compulsory segregation when the malady arrives at that stage from which contagion may occur. In innisting on this we are certain that Government will have the support of the educated natives.

Our Mission in India is to guide and control a vast population, and Government abould not be deterred from doing what is right from lear of ignorant clamour. Fifty years ago there was a strong prejudice sgainst hospitals and European of hostility toward a friendly government, also doctors. But the men who then erected hospitals a breach of the modus vivending reement made did not attempt to govern India by elever and

NGLISH AND OHINES. IMPERIAL QUARTO. DICTIONARY WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at

Daily Press. Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterised Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the ollowing facts are submitted forcensideration:— Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000

TOPOST-OFFICE NOTICES.

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addresses need do is to note on the cover, Sente-to - , or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it. without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally given more trouble in the end.
